Highest Priority Targets

1. The Committee agreed tentatively upon the highest priority targets pertaining to the three intelligence problems:

- a. Soviet Guided Missile Capability Against the United States
- b. Soviet Long Range Aircraft Capability
- c. Soviet Nuclear Production Capability

The Chairman agreed to submit a consolidation of these requirements with a covering argument at or before the next meeting, which was called for 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, 13 February 1957.

Revision of Secondary Targets

2. Final consideration of this paper, which had been distributed but not yet received by the members, would be at the next meeting. Preliminary discussion took place regarding the utility of marking secondary targets with the camera configuration which was thought to be required to reveal desired information.
